

2019 Business Person - Deb Thompson

Deborah Thompson recently retired from her position of vice president agency-sales for the southeastern market area for State Farm. She was responsible for agents and agency field leadership in Tennessee, Alabama and Kentucky.

Thompson joined State Farm in 1982 as an agent in Virginia. In 1995, she accepted an opportunity in leadership as an agency field consultant in Raleigh, N.C. In 2000, Thompson was selected as the Agency Field Executive in Eastern N.C. In 2003, she helped start the Developmental Agency Field Office for the Mid-Atlantic Zone and moved to corporate headquarters in 2006.

Thompson received a Bachelor of Arts degree from the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg, VA. She served on the board of directors for the United Way of Rutherford and Cannon Counties and Saint Thomas Rutherford Hospital. She currently serves on the Middle Tennessee State University Foundation board of trustees.

She and her husband, Roy Snipes, currently reside in Murfreesboro, Tennessee. They have three children: Ryan, Patrick and Brennan.